Party Time

Christmas Pot-luck is set for the Marshall center December 15th at the regular 8pm meeting time. We will be celebrating the Christmas season with desert and snacks not the usual dinner. As usual deserts and snacks are pot luck so bring your favorite goodie with plenty of holiday cheer to share with your friends.

Field Trips

The next over-night trip will likely be in April to the Olympic peninsula. Early planning suggests Ruby Beach, Lake Quinalt, Hurricane Ridge, and Port Townsend. Stay tuned.

Parks and Recreation needs images of their activities to promote participation in their many community activities. You should contact Cliff (360) 254-8995.

Program Night October 17th

The program will include Birds of the Bosque wildlife Refuge. The show includes many tips we can use at Ridgefield.

Editorial Observations

Projector: Prices of digital projectors are now in the $1000 to $1200 range. Is it time for us to get into the projected image game? We could combine both Electronic images and Slides as there seem to be a diminishing number of slide makers. We might need to solicit donations of money to help purchase a projector for the club if we choose to go this way.

Scoring vs. critique: We would like you to consider a change from a competition-oriented showing of prints to one that is critique-oriented. Rather than showing the prints one at a time, they would be distributed on tables around the room. Our members would disperse, looking at the prints and deciding if they had comments that could help the maker, or had observations about what made the print a success. Then, after the crowd had returned to their seats, the print chair would ask for those comments. Disagreements about some finer points would certainly be invited, but with shouting, cussing and fisticuffs being definitely off-limits.

If you would like to maintain a bit of competition, each member could be issued a limited number of tokens (coins, chips, etc.) to be placed by the prints that he or she thinks is the most worthy. Voting would help the print chair determine which prints to send to 4C's.

This proposal is made in the spirit of promoting the learning, crafting and enjoyment of our photography. Please think about giving something like this a try and we will discuss this in January.
